

TRANSFER ARTICULATION AGREEMENTS

A significant part of the mission of Louisburg College is to provide a bridge for students to make a successful transition from high school to senior colleges and universities. In order to help students achieve this transition, Louisburg College, the state's only two-year private institution, uses as its guide the North Carolina Comprehensive Articulation Agreement between the University of North Carolina system and the North Carolina Community College System as well as the North Carolina Independent Comprehensive Articulation Agreement between North Carolina Independent Colleges and Universities and the North Carolina Community College system. Additionally, Louisburg College has general and specific articulation agreements with institutions within North Carolina and outside of the state. Articulation agreements have also been created with several institutions to facilitate the transfer of students from Louisburg College's Honors Program into similar programs at the four-year level.
